

DAILY EXPRESS.

LOUISVILLE.

TUESDAY OCTOBER 5, 1869.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Grant Manipulated by a Loyal League Gold Gambler.

Boutwell Takes the Stamp in Pennsylvania.

Amos Kendall at the Point of Death.

A Fall in the Interviewing Business.

Important Tobacco Regulations.

GRANT AS A FINANCIER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The administration papers here think that the President's denial of the story that he was engaged with Fisk & Co. in the recent gold speculation was wholly uncalculated to give out of place, but the fact that the President admits that he ordered Boutwell to sell gold while the panic was at its height, excites severe comment, and proves the truth of the recent telegrams, that the President was appealed to by a New York Union League banker, to order his Secretary to sell gold. An investigation which has been made shows that after all gold declined 14 per cent, from 102 to 148 before Boutwell's order to sell had reached the Assistant Treasurer in New York.

PENNSYLVANIA. The Radical State Committee of Pennsylvania sent word down here last Saturday that if the President did not visit the State this week Boutwell must go there and make a speech, or the canvass would fail. So the Secretary of the Treasury posted off to-day to Philadelphia, where he is to make a campaign speech in support of his own policy. If he loses the battle, he is to make a campaign speech in support of his own policy. If he loses the battle, he is to make a campaign speech in support of his own policy.

THE INTERVIEWING BUSINESS. The interviewing business at the White House was very slim to-day. Among those who called on the President was George H. Keenan, of Kentucky, ex-Minister to Copenhagen.

AMOS KENDALL, who was Andrew Jackson's Postmaster General, is lying at the point of death. His physicians say that his recovery is impossible.

THE STORM, which prevailed all of yesterday and last night did considerable damage in this city and adjacent country. Trains are running between Baltimore and Washington through the streams are very high. No trains have arrived from New York since early this morning.

VIRGINIA. The master of the election of Senators from the subject arrested the attention and was the subject of solicitude among members of the Administration and extreme Radical politicians. These latter have been grossly disappointed at the tenor of the Attorney General's opinion which have cut off all hope of forcing the Virginia Legislature to elect members of their class to the United States Senate.

THE NAVY. There is no truth in the story that the Navy Department has ordered the construction of several fast steam-sloops of war. The department, instead of building additional ships, is anxious to sell several now on hand.

THE OLD COTTON TAX. It is not true that there is any case on the Supreme Court docket testing the constitutionality of the old tax on cotton.

OLD STAMPED TOBACCO. The following decision regarding old stamped tobacco has just been made: First, That a dealer having on hand old unstamped tobacco, snuff or cigars, is required to affix and cancel the proper stamps before selling or offering the tobacco, etc., for sale; but he is not required to brand or affix labels or notices.

Second, A dealer may himself repack his tobacco, etc., in lawful packages and stamp them without permission from the collector of his district.

Third, There is no provision of the law allowing snuff to be retailed from pound packages.

Fourth, A box of plug or twist tobacco stamped according to the new regulations may be sawed in halves, half of the stamp being left on each half of the tobacco, and the halves may be sold separately. A half box of tobacco, with the proper amount of stamps affixed and cancelled, may be sold without liability to seizure.

Fifth, Plug or twist tobacco in box or in barrel, and subsequently withdrawn from bonded warehouses and properly stamped, is not liable to seizure. Though the master's notice required by section 6 of act of July 20, 1868, is not upon it.

INCREASE IN WESTERN FREIGHTS. New York, Oct. 4.—Increased rates to the West went into effect to-day. St. Louis to Chicago 20, Cincinnati 45 cents per cwt., and others in proportion.

GOLD OPERATION. James B. Fisk & Co. have begun suits by capias in the United States Court for $2,500,000 difference on $7,000,000 gold sold by them through Albert Speyer at 160 on Friday to Fisk & Gould.

GEN. FREMONT'S SUIT AGAINST THE KANSAS PACIFIC RAILROAD has been removed to the United States Court.

NO TRAINS FROM WASHINGTON ARRIVED TO-DAY.

NASHVILLE. Assembling of the Legislature—The Senate—A Quarrel and its Result—Muscatine.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 4.—The Legislature effected only a partial organization to-day, which will delay the election of U. S. Senators until next Tuesday week. The provisions for the election of Senators on the second Tuesday after organization. As far as the organization went, East Tennessee was completely ignored, all the officers elected being from other divisions of the State. The fact some persons are sanguine enough to believe approximately to a test on the senatorial question, although it is well known that members of Johnson were voted for the successful candidates to-day. With the tremendous pressure being brought against Johnson, the belief is now largely entertained that two weeks will be sufficient to kill him off. If Andy Johnson is not elected, it would be little doubt about his election. Johnson is here himself, and probably such extraordinary electioneering and wire-pulling was never before developed in a Senatorial election. Before the election comes off it will be definitely ascertained how every member of the Legislature stands, but the status of members a week hence cannot be guessed. What they are to-day. Johnson is not elected, neither will Eberhardt, is not pretty certain. In that case either Ex-Governor Neil S. Brown or Judge Henry Cooper is likely to be the successful man. A couple of citizens of Mount Pleasant, many others, got into a quarrel Saturday, when one procured a gun and shot his opponent, shattering his arm. During the melee a stray ball shot a negro dead. The Grand Lodge of the Masons of Tennessee convened here to-day.

THE FLOOD.

Disastrous Rain Storm in the East.

The Delaware, Schuylkill, and Lehigh Booming.

Railroad Tracks, Bridges, and Houses Washed Away.

The Greatest Freshet for Twenty Years.

Immense Destruction of Property.

New York, Oct. 4.—The rain which commenced Saturday night lasted till this a. m., terminating in a heavy gale, which, however, did not diminish the violence of the storm. The Central, Hudson, Harlem and Erie roads were washed away in some places. The upper Delaware is twenty feet higher than its normal level. The freshet in the Schuylkill carried off several freight cars belonging to the Pennsylvania Central road, and reached the second bend of the Schuylkill river, about three miles above the city. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

PORTSMOUTH, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The rain caused considerable damage at Russell, Birdseye and Ward's iron works, at Kennerly, two miles north of Portsmouth. The break tore down the machine shop. Ten persons were badly injured. Loss $100,000. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

At Fort Ann a man named Julius Leiser, a Whitehall was drowned with his team. Several bridges were washed away. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level. The water rose to a height of about thirty feet above the normal level.

LOUISVILLE AND NORFOLK.

An Interesting Chapter on the Railroad Connection.

[From the Lynchburg Virginian.] To connect these cities and thus complete the All Rail Road from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans by the shortest route is the object of the Louisville, Harborsburg and Norfolk Railroad Company. There are other lines projected for the same object, but none, however, of equal merit, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

LOUISVILLE AND NORFOLK.

An Interesting Chapter on the Railroad Connection.

[From the Lynchburg Virginian.] To connect these cities and thus complete the All Rail Road from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans by the shortest route is the object of the Louisville, Harborsburg and Norfolk Railroad Company. There are other lines projected for the same object, but none, however, of equal merit, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

LOUISVILLE AND NORFOLK.

An Interesting Chapter on the Railroad Connection.

[From the Lynchburg Virginian.] To connect these cities and thus complete the All Rail Road from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans by the shortest route is the object of the Louisville, Harborsburg and Norfolk Railroad Company. There are other lines projected for the same object, but none, however, of equal merit, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

LOUISVILLE AND NORFOLK.

An Interesting Chapter on the Railroad Connection.

[From the Lynchburg Virginian.] To connect these cities and thus complete the All Rail Road from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans by the shortest route is the object of the Louisville, Harborsburg and Norfolk Railroad Company. There are other lines projected for the same object, but none, however, of equal merit, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

LOUISVILLE AND NORFOLK.

An Interesting Chapter on the Railroad Connection.

[From the Lynchburg Virginian.] To connect these cities and thus complete the All Rail Road from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans by the shortest route is the object of the Louisville, Harborsburg and Norfolk Railroad Company. There are other lines projected for the same object, but none, however, of equal merit, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

The immediate section referred to, though small comparatively in extent, a full development of which would partake of an international benefit, would add annually to the wealth of the Southern States not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Some of the public domain contributed to this would do much to harmonize and fraternize all sections, cementing them more closely, and but an act of justice to the people, who, in a spirit of confidence and patriotism, made so large a grant for general good as a VIRGINIAN.

rapid progress in the construction, and an early completion.

